

Bay Area Solar Fuel Station Initiative: Letter of Support

The Bay Area Solar Fuel Station Initiative will facilitate the construction of solar-powered charging infrastructure (i.e. solar fuel stations) in the greater Bay Area, promoting 100 percent renewably-powered transportation and local energy independence, creating green jobs, and capitalizing on significant new state and federal funding for electric vehicle infrastructure and solar installation.

We hereby join the regional Bay Area Solar Fuel Station Initiative and demonstrate our support for regional efforts to build a Bay Area network of solar fuel stations. If funding is made available, we have a strong interest in building one or more solar fuel station(s) to take advantage of the cost savings and substantial social and environmental benefits that solar fuel stations provide. We will also support efforts in our business community to build solar fuel stations.
